"We are pleased a well-respected research firm like Merriman has initiated coverage on our company and recognizes the momentum we have demonstrated and the escalating opportunities associated with our business via our proprietary technology, growing list of pharmaceutical manufacturers, and expanding EHR network," said David Harrell, CEO of OptimizeRx Corporation.

In the upcoming months, the Company is on track to significantly increase its physician reach and expand paid transactions by launching Quest Diagnostics in early August, expanding the reach within the EHealthline channel, which was launched on a limited basis in June, as well as preparing to fully launch with LDM later in the 3rd Quarter, and an additional leading EHR with 50,000 Doctors in the 4th quarter of 2014. In addition, discussions with other potential channel partners continue, including some innovative new platforms which reach additional physicians and patients in new ways.

The company also plans to target more leading health systems directly through their new streamlined integration process that offers downloadable, built-in code that can reduce required resources to launch and test our eCoupon within the health system's current ePrescribing platform. This innovative approach will allow OptimizeRx to reduce resources and launch time from weeks to as little as a single day to complete the SampleMD set up process. Additionally, OptimizeRx is partnering with some of its leading pharmaceutical partners to collectively introduce this novel solution to their targeted health systems who are looking for a quicker implementable alternative to maintaining and managing inventories of physical drug samples.

The Company also announced that it is committed to expanding its Board of Directors to bring in additional resources to help guide the growth of the Company. The Company is currently interviewing and finalizing the selection of Directors with health care, technology, business, or investment experience and expects to announce at least 2 outside Directors during the third quarter.

The Company plans to announce its 2nd quarter operating results in early August and expects increased revenues and improved operating results over both the same quarter of 2013 and the first quarter of 2014.
